Highway Dedicated for Beloved Man on Qualla Boundary

CHEROKEE — Reflective green-and-white signs stating “Beloved Man Dr Jerry Wolfe Highway” in English and Cherokee were erected Tuesday. They are bookends to a 4.2-mile stretch of U.S. 441 through the Qualla Boundary between U.S. 74 and U.S. 19.

“Jerry personified what it meant to be Cherokee, the core values of what it means to be Cherokee,” Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians Principal Chief Richard Sneed said. “He lived those. He personified them, and he shared them with all of us. When I think about where we are today as a people, I think it’s imperative that we give back through the example Jerry set for us.”
